Destiny Scavenger Hunt (3\textsuperscript{rd} grade)

First and last name: ____________________________  Teacher: __________________

Try a \textit{Title Search}.
Type \texttt{"Encyclopedia Brown"} in the search box. Then click the title button.

- How many Encyclopedia Brown titles does the media center have? ________________________________
- What is the 3\textsuperscript{rd} title in the list? ________________________________
- Is that title available and on the shelf? ________________________________
- What is its call number? ________________________________

Try an \textit{Author Search}.
Type in the last name \texttt{"dePaola"}.  Click on the author button.

- What is the 4\textsuperscript{th} title on the list? ________________________________
- What is the call number for that book? ________________________________

Try a \textit{Keyword Search} and a \textit{Subject Search}.
Type the topic \texttt{"jokes"}.  Click on the Subject button.

- How many search results do you get? ________________________________

Again, type the topic \texttt{"dance"}, but now click on the Keyword button (or press ENTER, which is the same as clicking on the Keyword button).

- How many search results do you get? ________________________________

Think about this difference when you search this year.  SUBJECT searching can be more specific to what you want if your word is an official subject in the catalog.  KEYWORD searching will bring up more hits because it looks in all of the button fields (keyword, title, author, subject, and series).

Try a \textit{WebPath Express Search}.
WebPath Express gives you websites that are approved by teachers and librarians.

Click on \texttt{"WebPath Express"} in the menu on the left.  Type the word \texttt{"fable"} and hit Search. Scroll down your search results list.

- How many search results do you get? ________________________________
- What is the website address (URL) of the 2\textsuperscript{nd} search result? ________
_________________________
Destiny Scavenger Hunt (4th grade)

First and last name: ____________________________  Teacher: ________________

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Try a Title Search.</th>
<th>Type “Atlas” in the search box. Then click the Title button.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• How many books does the media center have with the word Atlas in the title? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• What is the 3rd title in the list? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Is that title available and on the shelf? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• What is its call number? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Try an Author Search.</th>
<th>Type the last name “Shemie”. Click the Author button.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• What is the 2nd title on the list? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• What is the call number for that book? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Try a Keyword Search and a Subject Search.</th>
<th>Type the topic “Inuit”. Click the Subject button.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• How many search results do you get? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Again, type the topic “Inuit”, but now click on the Keyword button (or press ENTER, which is the same as clicking on the Keyword button).</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• How many search results do you get? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Think about this difference when you search this year. SUBJECT searching can be more specific to what you want if your word is an official subject in the catalog. KEYWORD searching will bring up more hits because it looks in all of the button fields (keyword, title, author, subject, and series).

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Try a WebPath Express Search.</th>
<th>WebPath Express gives you websites that are approved by teachers and librarians.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Click on “WebPath Express” in the menu on the left. Type the word “Pawnee” and hit Search. Scroll down your search results list.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• How many search results do you get? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• What is the website address (URL) of the 1st search result? ____________________________</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Destiny Scavenger Hunt (5th grade)

First and last name: ________________________  Teacher: ________________

Try a Title Search.
Type “Gettysburg” in the search box. Then click the Title button.
- How many books does the media center have with the word Atlas in the title? __________________________
- What is the 4th title in the list? __________________________
- Is that title available and on the shelf? __________________________
- What is its call number? __________________________

Try an Author Search.
Type in the last name “Fritz”. Click the Author button.
- What is the 3rd title on the list? __________________________
- What is the call number for that book? __________________________

Try a Keyword Search and a Subject Search.
Type the topic “Civil War.” Click on the Subject button.
- How many search results do you get? __________________________

Again, type the topic “Civil War”, but now click on the Keyword button (or press ENTER, which is the same as clicking on the Keyword button).
- How many search results do you get? __________________________

Think about this difference when you search this year. SUBJECT searching can be more specific to what you want if your word is an official subject in the catalog. KEYWORD searching will bring up more hits because it looks in all of the button fields (keyword, title, author, subject, and series).

Try a WebPath Express Search.
WebPath Express gives you websites that are approved by teachers and librarians.

Click on “WebPath Express” in the menu on the left. Type the term “Abraham Lincoln” and hit Search. Scroll down your search results list.
- How many search results do you get? __________________________
- What is the website address (URL) of the 2nd search result? _______

_______